

Research Recruitment for Minority Individuals with MS

Survey Study

Barrow Neurological Institute is currently conducting a survey aimed at better understanding the perceptions and priorities for research as well as barriers to participating in research for underrepresented individuals with multiple sclerosis. We are seeking to include individuals from diverse backgrounds and minority communities diagnosed with MS.

By participating, you would be able to provide valuable feedback so that future research is more inclusive and represents the priorities of all people living with MS.

More Information

If you believe you would qualify to participate in this survey study, please scan the QR code below or contact the MS research team at: DH-MSNeuroimmunologyResearch@CommonSpirit.org

redcap.link/ms-research-survey

It is recommended to use your personal or home internet network to enroll for the MS Survey Study.