Course Goal
This interdisciplinary symposium will focus on the rehabilitation process throughout the continuum of care for those who suffer with acquired brain injury. It will highlight the effects of spasticity in traumatic brain injury and the interventions that can help improve function. It will also review both professional and patient/family/caregiver perspectives on the recovery process after traumatic brain injury.

Overall Course Objectives/Course Completion Requirements
1. The participants will be able to identify spasticity management techniques that affect the patient’s functional outcomes.
2. The participants will be able to describe the resources to advocate for the patient throughout the continuum of care.
3. The participants will be able to verbalize strategies and techniques to help the patient and family/caregiver cope with changing expectations of recovery.

OT Classification Codes
Category 1: Client Factors – Body Functions and Structures
Category 1: Performance – Cognition
Category 2: Outcomes – Adaptation, Quality of Life, and Health and Wellness
